

July 12, 2022

Dear Sequoia Fund shareholders:

For the second quarter of 2022, Sequoia Fund generated a negative return of 19.12%<sup>1</sup> net of fees, versus negative 16.10% for the Standard and Poor's 500 Index. For the year to date through June 30, the Fund generated a total negative return of 29.30%, versus negative 19.96% for the Index.

During the quarter we opportunistically trimmed the Fund's stakes in Elevance Health (formerly known as Anthem) and UnitedHealth and increased our investment in Intercontinental Exchange. We also made minor additions to our holdings in Netflix and Wayfair. Finally, we initiated a new position in SAP, an industry leader in the global ERP software market. We discuss the Fund's activity in more detail in our Q2 video commentary, and as usual will provide a detailed review of new investments and meaningful portfolio changes in our year-end letter.

We enjoyed seeing so many shareholders in person in May during our annual investor day. The video replay and transcript are available on our website.

Sincerely,

The Ruane Cunniff Investment Committee

** It is the intention of Ruane, Cunniff & Goldfarb L.P. (the "Adviser") to ensure the Fund does not pay in excess of 1.00% in Net Annual Fund Operating Expenses. This reimbursement is a provision of the Adviser's investment advisory contract with the Fund and the reimbursement will be in effect only so long as that investment advisory contract is in effect. The expense ratio presented is from the Fund's prospectus dated April 29, 2022. For the year ended December 31, 2021, the Fund's annual operating expenses and investment advisory fee, net of such reimbursement, were 1.00% and 0.93%, respectively.

The Fund is non-diversified, meaning that it invests its assets in a smaller number of companies than many other funds. As a result, an investment in the Fund has the risk that changes in the value of a single security may have a significant effect, either negative or positive, on the Fund's net asset value per share.
